Dear Rev. Blount & Church:

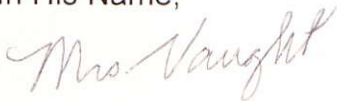

It is a joy to write to you with a special “thank you” for your love, support and prayers. I pray that many blessings are yours.

A few weeks ago, it was my birthday. Each year as my birthday passes, I am grateful to have had another year to tell others of the peace and joy of knowing our Savior and a Heavenly Father who provides for His children. How wonderful it is to belong to God's family and know we shall see Him and our loved ones, who have gone before us.

As I have stated in previous letters to you, each day there is someone who has a need of knowing Jesus or someone who needs to find a church home. Recently I met a Texas State Patrolman, as he was coming by me in the Post Office. I inquired about where he attended church, his answer was “I was saved at a young age, but I don't go to church”. He nor his wife attends church. Please pray for him and his family. Every day we have the privilege to share the gospel with others. That is and always will be the joy of my life as it was my husband's.

May God richly bless you for being a blessing to me. Our Lord always knows His children's needs.

In His Name,

Mrs. (Fred) Joan Vaught
