MINISTERING TO OUR MILITARY PERSONNEL & THEIR FAMILIES

Summer, 2026

Dear Prayer Partner:

Well, it's the Good Old Summertime! NOT!!! A lot of people love it, but I must say that I'm not among them. I know that God made the seasons, but I must say that I prefer the other three. Joyce loves it and I do my best to endure it for her. Thank God for air-conditioning! I hope Willis Carrier was a saved man so I can personally thank him for discovering the a/c when I get to Heaven. Amen!

Joyce and I have had a busy summer thus far. God has opened several doors for me to minister, preach His Word and represent the ministry of Military Missions in churches. It's amazing to discover that so many churches know little or nothing about how we minister to our military personnel and their families and they are thrilled to know that our missionaries are there for them. We may not be able to reach them all for Christ, but we have seen many come to a saving knowledge of Him. Last month when the four soldiers died in the war and they were flown to Dover AFB for their dignified transfer, the first thought that came to my mind was, "Did we reach them with the Gospel message." Please continue to pray for our missionaries that God will greatly use them to be a help, comfort and witness to our men and women and especially those who will be serving in the war zones.

I would also ask you to continue praying for Joyce as she still struggles with the pain from the post herpetic neuralgia, the aftereffects of the Shingles she had two years ago. She's been a trooper through it all, but it has been most difficult for her to deal with the pain.

Our fall schedule will begin in South Carolina in the latter part of August; then to Michigan the first part of September. Please pray for safe travels and that the touch of God may be on our meetings. Pray that many will catch the burden for missions. We desperately need more missionaries, and our LORD JESUS told us what to do in Matthew 9:37-38 – "pray for more laborers."

One special request is that God would provide a new director of Military Missions. Brother Bryan Baggett faithfully directed this ministry at BIMI for over 7 years, but the Lord has now led him back into the pastorate. He will be leaving at the end of August.

Joyce and I want to thank you for laboring with us in this great work. You have been faithful to pray for us and support us now for many years and we are very grateful. May He richly bless you for it. Please know that we love you and remain…

In Christ's Service
