Fires of Evangelism Recently

My opportunity to go to Ecuador in September was canceled. But I did get to go to our conference in El Salvador. So wonderful this trip was for me because I got to take my wife, Robin, with me. Because of finances, she almost never gets to go. She was a moral support and a superb prayer partner. I spoke seven times in the conference, and God used Robin to be of great encouragement to the hosting pastor's wife, Tammy. There were 9 salvation decisions during the week and 5 brethren surrendered to full-time service.

Robin & I with Pastor Amaya & his wife in El Salvador

Our ministry had a conference in Argentina at the end of September for the first time in Buenos Aires. Despite devilish attacks on our leadership and a change of hosting churches, there was a good attendance and God worked in hearts such that 30 folks surrendered to full-time service. This week we had a good conference in Bogota, Colombia. Pastors that attended were 19. But, wow, the church there had 94 baptisms. Also, 23 brethren surrendered to serve the Lord full-time

Prayer Needs

Pray for God to make fruitful our witnessing efforts. Two of these were men we met in El Salvador, named Alfredo and the other Jairo. Pray for God to provide to replace my car and our roof. Pray for our conferences this month in Honduras and the Philippines. Next month will we have a conference in Guatemala.

"Not Faithless, But Believing"

When it seemed to Thomas that all hope was gone, no kingdom to be ushered in, no king of righteousness to rule the nation, no more miracles performed by the marvelous one, and no more meaning in life when the author of life was dead, Jesus appeared on the scene to exhort Thomas, "be not faithless, but believing." In another passage, Jesus expressed a little earlier in his ministry, "when the Son of man cometh, shall He find faith on the earth?" We, like Peter, too often look at the circumstances surrounding us (as He found in himself in the storm) and begin sinking into those circumstances (and like Peter, even in the middle of exercising our faith to 'come to Jesus'). But again, Jesus was there at arms length. He was near. He was present. And He cares. He showed up. There is no reason to not have faith.

And here at home the swirling waters of doubt want to sweep us away. We were recently informed of our house roof needing to be replaced in a couple years. Last Wednesday, as I waited to make a left turn into the cleaners to pick up suits, a young man rear-ended my car (the 2014 Altima that has almost 330,000 miles on it). The insurance company has deemed my car a total loss. Our Fires ministry is being pressured by travel expenses that have increased at least 30%, if not more. In trying to develop and include younger experienced pastors into our Fires ministry, we have discovered some that have embraced doctrines or practices not deemed biblical.

BUT JESUS IS NEAR! Even as the dark clouds of communism crouch to pounce on our freedom of faith in the coming elections, we must be believing, obedient, and not faithless.
